

Deal Memo -- Quantum Labs Series B

Quantum Labs has closed a Series B round led by Meridian Capital. The round values the company's sensor-fusion platform ahead of a planned push into industrial robotics integrations.

Dana Kim, Partner at Meridian Capital, led the deal and will join as a board observer. Dana has known Elena Cho, CEO of Quantum Labs, since Elena's time leading a perception team at a self-driving vehicle company.

Raj Patel, Head of Engineering at Quantum Labs, presented the technical roadmap during diligence, including the newly scoped Fenwick Integration project.

Use of proceeds: engineering headcount, and expansion of the Fenwick Integration pilot into a general release.
